On Motion of Commissioner Schlesinger, seconded by Commissioner Lucas, and carried unanimously, the addition of the litigation item to tonight’s agenda was approved.

Attorney Drake distributed and read a letter addressed to Mayor Reichert from Steve Allen, Vice-Chair of the Macon-Bibb County Board of Elections. In the letter, Mr. Allen requests, pursuant to Section 18-153 of the Macon-Bibb County Code of Ordinances, defense by attorney

B. Regular Commission Meeting on February 18, 2014

On motion of Commissioner Ed DeFore, seconded by Commissioner Elaine Lucas, and carried unanimously, the minutes of the Pre-Commission and Regular Commission meetings held on February 18th were approved as presented.

INVITED GUESTS

Dr. I. Edwin Mack of Unionville Baptist Church
Dr. Mack was invited to render the prayer for tonight’s Regular Commission Meeting.

Former Macon City Councilman Lonnie Miley
Mr. Miley introduced himself as the President of the SEIU and related his experience with the Public Works Department and its employees. He implored the Commission to consider the service and value of the Public Works employees when formulating the upcoming budget. He urged the Commission not to balance the budget at the expense of these employees. He also spoke against privatization of Public Works and emphasized the Public Works Department could generate revenue by servicing the entire Macon-Bibb County area; thereby, creating revenue for the landfill. Mr. Miley presented the Commission with a report for the 2014 Fiscal Year that included a master plan for solid waste disposal, managing the collection and disposal of Bibb County residential solid waste, and a Justification for Consolidation Cost in 2014 Budget analysis chart. Mr. Miley ended by saying, "We talk about having a Class One Fire Department; we have always had a Class One Public Works Department."

Donna Lee and Tracey Willis Kight – American Red Cross
Commissioner Virgil Watkins presented a Proclamation proclaiming March as American Red Cross Month to Tracey Kight and Donna Lee on behalf of the Mayor and Commissioners. Commissioner Watkins stated he had participated in a neighborhood canvassing project on Saturday, March 1st where neighborhoods and residences, identified by the Fire Department as high risk, were checked for smoke detectors and fire alarms. He stated Macon-Bibb County had 14 fire deaths in 2013 which was the highest number fire deaths in the state of Georgia and has had one recent fire death in 2014. Commissioner Watkins thanked the American Red Cross and its volunteers for the many community services they provide during disasters and other community crises.

Red Cross Director Tracey Kight stated the month of March was used to help the community prevent, prepare, and respond to disasters. She thanked Mayor Reichert, Commissioners, and all Central Georgians for their support of the Red Cross. She stated this month marks the 100th year the American Red Cross has provided life-saving and community services to Central Georgia.

Donna Lee thanked Commissioner Watkins for his participation in Saturday’s neighborhood canvassing event. She stated 636 homes were visited by foot which was the largest canvassing event that has ever been done in the state of Georgia. She also stated that for the first time, they were collaborating with the Director of the Macon-Bibb County Emergency Management Agency on local sheltering events that have proven to be cost-effective in meeting the needs of residents. She expressed the need for volunteers and donations to continue the mission of the American Red Cross.

Women's History Month
Mayor Reichert asked and received unanimous consent to move from the Consent Agenda and present the Resolution recognizing March 2014 as Women's History Month. The Resolution was sponsored by Commissioner Elaine Lucas. Mayor Reichert presented the Resolution, recognizing the many contributions of women to the State of Georgia, Macon-Bibb County and the nation, to Commissioner Lucas and several other women who were present at tonight's meeting. The Mayor further thanked women for all they have done and continue to do.

PUBLIC COMMENTS ON AGENDA ITEMS

A. Adrian Harmon urged Commissioners to approve the two Resolutions on tonight's agenda regarding the RFQ for a consultant to do the needs analysis for a Disparity Study and the hiring of a Director of the Office of Small Business Affairs. Mr. Harmon stated he was facing the same problems his father experienced 30 years ago as a contractor in obtaining work on Macon and Bibb County projects. He felt the same contractors, general contractors, and sub-contractors were continuing to receive all contracts. Mr. Harmon reiterated he as well as other African-American and minority contractors wanted to be given a fair chance in the contract letting process. He stated the two Resolutions under consideration would help advance opportunities for African-American and minority contractors in the community enabling them to grow, build capacity, and earn income.

ATTEST:

FROM: Greg Cline: Purchasing Agent

CC: Dave Fortson, Director of Engineering

DATE: 3/6/2014

SUBJECT: Jeffersonville Road at Millerfield Road Milling & Resurfacing Project

Bid Requests were issued to ten (10) local businesses, two (2) of which are Minority Firms, for the Jeffersonville Road at Millerfield Road Milling and Resurfacing Project. This is not a large project and requires a Milling Machine to reduce the height of a road and is a specialized piece of equipment. As such, only one firm offered a Proposal for this Project, Reeves Construction of Macon, Ga. Reeves owns a Milling Machine and that is more cost effective in the formulation of a bid for a small project, as opposed to trying to rent one, as this Project can be completed in one week or less.

Dave Fortson, Director of Engineering, has reviewed the Proposal and is of the opinion that Reeves Construction is a good local company and has a very positive reputation with the Engineering Dept. and recommends acceptance of the Proposal.

My understanding is that it is desired to complete this Project no later than April 30th.

The details of the Proposal are as follows:

Superintendent David,

I am writing to submit comments on the draft Old Fields Boundary Study and Environmental Assessment on the possible expansion of the Ocmulgee National Monument.

According to the National Trust for Historic Preservation, the Old Fields region surrounding the current National Monument is among the nation’s richest archaeological areas. A roughly 14,000 acre area, documenting 17,000 years of human presence, is eligible for listing on the National Register of Historic Places as a “traditional cultural property” (TCP) of the Muscogee Creek people. The true area of cultural significance, however, extends even beyond the TCP.

In addition to containing many additional prehistoric sites, the Ocmulgee River corridor south from Macon was a crossroads of key events in our nation’s early history. Records indicate that 2-3 Colonial era Creek town sites existed south of Lamar mound. And during Tecumseh’s Rebellion, the War of 1812, and the Creek Civil War, a series of ten forts, known as General Blackshear’s Line, were erected south of Fort Hawkins to mark the frontier and serve as staging areas for American troops battling Native American and British forces to the west. The exact locations of these towns and forts are still being determined.

The ecological significance of the river corridor is equally amazing. In 2004, the Georgia General Assembly passed resolutions (HR 1256 & SR 755) urging the Congress of the United States to consider creating a national preserve or other similar federal property to protect land and other natural resources and promote hunting and fishing in a continuous corridor of the Ocmulgee and Altamaha Rivers in central and south Georgia...

Today the Monument is the most visited attraction in middle Georgia and the river corridor provides important outdoor recreation opportunities for hunters, anglers, hikers, bird watchers, and paddlers on the growing Ocmulgee Water Trail. In view of the area’s uniqueness, the National Parks Conservation Association and local conservationists propose linking the Monument with other existing public lands to establish the first National Park & Preserve east of the Mississippi. Such a re-designation would ultimately protect many nationally significant resources and elevate Macon’s status as a national and international tourist destination.

For all of these reasons,

- I support Alternative B (the preferred alternative) to expand the Ocmulgee National Monument boundary;
- I endorse the National Park & Preserve concept that would eventually connect and consolidate existing federal and state public lands between Macon and Hawkinsville; and
- I urge the National Park Service to recommend that Congress authorize further study of the national significance of the natural and cultural resources in this extended river corridor.

Thank you for the opportunity to provide these comments. I appreciate the hard work and dedication of the National Park Service in preserving the best examples of America’s natural and cultural heritage for future generations.
